HIKING HOLIDAY SWISS TOUR MONTE ROSA

Hiking: Swiss Tour Monte Rosa

Paths for all senses

The wind whistles around your ears, occasionally a stone crunches under your shoe. But otherwise, you hear... nothing! The pioneers, who built the Balfrin high trail over several summers in the 1950s, did not call the connection between Saas-Fee and Grächen the "path to silence" for nothing.

Even today, there are no pubs or mountain hotels on this hike to disturb the peace. After this challenging start, the equally panoramic Europe Trail follows. The Weissshorn now majestically accompanies you on the coming hiking days. The Matterhorn comes into view in front of you and high up in the sky an eagle circles. The mountain world, through which the Swiss Tour Monte Rosa leads, is a feast for all the senses.

TOUR CHARACTER

The first stage to Grächen is a real challenge. Exposed sections are secured with ropes and a head for heights and sure-footedness are absolutely essential right from the start. The following stages along the Europe Trail have been made somewhat easier in recent years. However, good physical condition is also required for the hiking days to Zermatt.
